“ Louis was very generous with his time. I cannot count the times he helped my mother in law and father in law with his talents regardless of the time of day. He was a wonderful neighbor. Condolences

“ My condolences to the family and friends of Louis Inman. I first met Louis when I was assigned to the Structures Shop of Det. 1, 307 RHS. At the time I arrived the section was entering a supervisory change. Shortly after my arrival, Louis was appointed as the Shop Supervisor. Over the next few years, he impressed me as a very motivated leader, not only due to his substantial knowledge and experience - but his sincere dedication to the mission and commitment as well as training those under his supervision.

He was a firm leader but ready and willing to share his expertise. He had a way of demonstrating a challenging and making it look simple, thereby advancing the learner's skill and the quality of the unit's final product. Whenever accolades were being passed around he always gave credit to his troops/workers for a "job well done".

As his reputation continued to flourish, he continued to gain the respect and recognition to those above and around him. He was selected as Chief of the Cantonments Section where he was instrumental for many successful operations. As Cantonments Chief he was able to broaden his influence keeping the unit's reputation of quality work at the forefront of Civil Engineer work.

The Chief also had a great understanding of the importance of time off and ensured troops had time off during a deployment. He loved a good laugh with the troops, understood humility, and enjoyed practical jokes with his peers.

He was a well rounded leader, he will be missed in this life - but not forgotten.

“ It was a distinct privilege to have served with CMSGT. Louis Inman in RED HORSE.

As he rose through the ranks, and as a senior NCO he led by example. His leadership style was charismatic, respected, and cherished.

He had an innate ability to convert ideas, blue prints, concepts into tangible structures. Structures that serve as a testimony of his humanity towards others.

When projects went well, he was the first to recognize and credit others; and when projects didn't go so well, he held himself responsible and accountable. It was his character, it was his style.

Will miss his wit, his gruffly laugh, his friendship.

His Peace!

“ To Jean and Family: You are in my thoughts and prayers at this very difficult time. I knew Chief Inman from RED HORSE and he was a very good friend. He really took care of the troops and left huge boots to fill. He did so much for so many. The world needs more Chief Inmans. Again, you have my deepest sympathies.
