“Ms. Glenda Miller was more than a teacher for her students at Fenton High School. She gave us the vision that we could become whatever we wanted to, and she gently guided us to help us achieve our goals.

She was the most passionate teacher I had in my life, and the lessons I learned from her will always be with me. She had a gift for inspiring others.

She taught us more than just grammar rules and an appreciation for the classics in literature. She introduced us to choral reading and the wide array of speeches the we could compete with at speech festivals.

Ms. Miller took so many of her students to Beta Club conventions throughout the years. She was also one of the Golden Eagles' greatest fans at basketball games.

The Fenton High School class on '91 paid tribute to Ms. Glenda Miller, and the words to Whitney Houston's song "Wind Beneath My Wings" still describe how we feel about her:

*... "Did I ever tell you you're my hero?
You're everything, everything I wish I could be.
Oh, and I, I could fly higher than an eagle,
For you are the wind beneath my wings,
'cause you are the wind beneath my wings.
Oh, the wind beneath my wings.
You, you, you, you are the wind beneath my wings.
Fly, fly, fly away. You let me fly so high.
Oh, you, you, you, the wind beneath my wings.
Oh, you, you, you, the wind beneath my wings.
Fly, fly, fly high against the sky,
So high I almost touch the sky.
Thank you, thank you,
Thank God for you, the wind beneath my wings."*

I thank God for you, Glenda Miller, and the way you helped to make my small corner of the world a better place. You truly were the wind beneath my wings.

“ Joshua and Courtney Miller, our deepest sympathy is with you just remember this, “When you speak of her, speak not with tears, for thoughts of her should not be sad. Let memories of the times you shared give you comfort, for her life was rich because of you.” God bless, Ronnie and Mary Young. ”
