“ I remember the days of the "neighborhood rug rats" with games of hide-and-seeK, softball, nighttime weiner roasts and catching fireflies. Both Mr. Ulysses and Mrs. Hertha played a hand in many of those memories. (Mainly giving permission for Ronnie to do so and supplying mason jars!) Mrs. Hertha put up with relentless knocking on her door for Ronnie to come out to play and using her yard as shortcuts in our running around. She never failed to have a smile on her face or have a kind word to say even though I'm certain she felt like slamming the door on us and wanting to say "Go away!" I will always remember her thick Cajun accent and her laugh. Great memories like that fill our hearts for a lifetime and simply make life better for those lucky enough to have them. Thanks for the memories, Mrs. Hertha. Enjoy the grandeur and beauty of your heavenly home and being reunited with the love of your life. Pray for us all here on earth!
