“ One memory I will always remember are the different prescriptions (tic-tacs) we had at Grammy's house. the white tic-tacs were to be taken first thing in the morning to ensure you had a good day. the orange tic-tacs were sleeping pills and to be taken at night to ensure a restful night of sleeping. and the green tic-tacs were if there were ever monsters under the bed. those green ones were guaranteed to get rid of any monster in the room! Love you Grammy.
