“ *To Kevin Mullen's Family,
I wish to express my sadness for you over the loss of your husband & father 3 years ago. I did not know Kevin well; I met him in the fall of '92 in Allentown when he spoke to a group & I was a Muhlenberg College student. At the time we were impressed with Kevin's presentation & asked him to speak at our college which he obliged... Gratis, driving up from Florida. I think that shows a lot about his good character.
I never forgot that generosity he showed our school, and though I never communicated or spoke to him again after he was a speaker in our student union that night, I never forgot that he did that for us. Today, I was able to use the Internet to reconnect, and I just want to say I am sorry. Regina Scotti*

“*Julie,
My thoughts and prayers go out to you and your family.
I remember the great times I shared with Kevin over the years. Our fishing trip on the Susquehanna river was a blast along with all the "adventures" we had on our business trips over the years.
He talked about you all the time. You were the love of his life. I will miss him and remember him as a great friend and person that always put a smile on my face.

“ My deepest sympathy to Kevin's family (Julie,Ian,Kylee)his mother Lee, his brother and his many friends.
Through Ritch and Greg I came to know and care for Kevin and he quickly became a "heart" son. I hope as he reaches that last step on the stairway to Heaven, he gives a small glance back to see the faces of all who cared for him, loved him, and will miss him.

“ Keven I have thought so much about you and Julie over the past few years and wished we had kept closer in touch....when I think of the times with you two at my salon it always brings a big smile to my face. You and I had that special secret that only we understood. You were always such inspiration to me during those times as we learned together. I think you were a great man with a big heart and such funny humor I will miss knowing that you are here and still fighting for progress. I know you will rest in peace my friend and it makes me feel good to know that your up there on my side. Julie I am always here for you anytime.....I love you both. My eyes cry but my heart sings in the celebration of Keven's life.....he made a big difference in this life time and brought in new life. I so admired him. Love you Adam

“ Julie, The only words I have that are meant to comfort you will probably sound very hollow right now. But you and your entire family are, and will continue to be in our prayers. May you seek God for His comfort, love, and restoration and know that He will supply them all in abundance.

“ Journey? or destination? ... what would you choose? The journey of course! My life has been blessed with the opportunity of traveling the journey of life with Kevin as my friend through the years. We may not have spoken every day, but we were those friends who always picked up where we left off.. The ones who didn't need to speak all of the time in order to know how much we cared and mean to each other. I was always happy to hear from Kevin. Not many people can say they have had a friend as special as Kevin. Those who knew him can consider themselves lucky. He was a friend that would always understand, a friend who would always be there for you.. and always will be. In my heart and soul, Kevin will always live on. Yes, I will miss his conversations and making new memories, but Kevin will always live on, through me, through us. He has left his legacy for us, but more importantly, for his wife, mother, children and best friend. Julie, you are beautiful, both inside and out.. remember that and know that you will always be my dear friend and that although I cannot be with you physically, I am here whenever you need me. I'm here to talk about anything... the past, present or future... Heartfelt hugs and kisses to you and your babies..... Lots of love Kevin.. Thanks for being part of my life.... until we meet again...xoxo
