“ Will miss my friend. We occasionally took each other for out-of-town medical appointments. Most of our visits were at church and at church-related events. May God comfort you, Lorrie and Mary, in the days ahead. She loved you dearly and especially loved her grandchildren. Will pray for you and your families. ”

So glad to have known this dear lady. She was always so hospitable and kind.

She made the best school lunches for her two girls. I was always eagerly begging Lorrie to share.

I still have the sewing basket she made me when I got married.

Such a sweet woman!

So glad she is with our Lord.

She will be missed!

Nancy, it pains me that life stood in the way of being able to see you and share stories and conversations like we used to! I loves working for you and forever will be the best boss I ever had! The laughs and mischievous pranks and jokes we used to tell! I know we will be united again one day but until then I will miss you more than you know! Fly high my friend and I can't wait to be united again! Love you dearly!
