“ When I was a little girl, daddy would allow me to comb his hair while he took his nap. He fondly referred taking a nap as "Practice for tonight", this memory is a wonderful time that I look back on. Daddy was my teacher of the game of football. I am so happy that we shared this in common. Daddy was my prayer warrior, I truly miss the sound of his voice, but will always have the memories.

Well it's been a year since daddy went to heaven and it just seems like it was yesterday. Time really does fly by. It's so important that we tell those that we love how much we love them everyday and we should really take the time to love all as Jesus did. Thanks to everyone who commented, sent gifts and prayers for Gods healing comfort. It is still well with my soul.

“ My daddy, How I will miss our phone calls that we shared and that day that we spent at one of your favorite places to visit, the Lorraine Bridge, New Iberia, LA. I will never forget your smile and your dedicated heart to our Lord Jesus Christ. My daddy, a man after Gods own heart. I will miss our conversations and the many times we prayed. Thank you for your encouragement and love. I'm so happy Daddy, I can't say it loud enough, we just want to shout it to the rooftops, Hallelujah my daddy is in Heaven and he is no longer in pain. You meant nothing but to be a reflection of Christ Jesus, and forever will be in my heart. Daddy there is no other word for the love you shared with me, your daughter, Rhonda Kay Abshire-Wiatrek... until we meet again in Paradise...

I first met Mr. Noah at the veterans home over five years ago while on a tour of the facility prior to my parents moving there. Since then, I always looked forward to a visit with him whenever I was in town. Sometimes we simply sat and watched a football game together. He loved it when my family accompanied me on a visit. Most of the time, we parted only after praying. His smile, positive attitude and emphatic "Amen!" will be missed but never forgotten. I'm comforted, though, knowing he is free from pain and with the Lord and his wife who he, obviously, loved dearly.

*I will miss you Mr Noah, Your beautiful smile and cheerfulness when I came by to say hello, sharing of your memories of you and your dad visiting my Grandpa Nick out in the country and your sharing your devotion of our lord. It is such a pleasure to have known you and Ms Mary. Love you, Jim and

*I graduated from High School with your Dad in 1950, we remained friends and saw each other occasionally. He was always very nice, kind, and respectful--Last saw him at the VA Home a year or so ago at an Event, and it was a Joy to visit with him.

*Dear family of Noah, so sorry to hear of his passing. He was the love of My Aunt Jo's life. She was truly blessed to have him as a soulmate. I remember that AMEN too. Very profound and heartfelt. God bless you all, and so happy that he, Jo and all the other loved ones that preceding them are in God's glory. AMEN dear Noah, Amen. Mary
