“ Sitting around a campfire one night, we were discussing school. I shared that one of my favorite stories in our second grade reading book was “Hedgehog Bakes a Cake.” Rebecca proceeded to tell me that she had a pet hedgehog. Oh my! Jackpot! Who would have thought that anyone would own a real, live hedgehog? I invited her to my classroom to show her pet. One afternoon the next week, Rebecca showed up at Kaplan Elementary with her hedgehog. The children were so excited! She answered their questions and walked up and down the aisles so they could see this unique pet. Who in the world would own a hedgehog... Rebecca that’s who! 😊

“ I am going to miss your smile. My mind keeps going back to when we went shopping in Mississippi and your Momma was telling you to try on something and you said "Mommmm" cause you were shy. I also keep hearing MawMaw Betty calling your name; saying Hey, Ba. She called her that instead of Rebecca. You will be greatly missed.
