“ Mr. Tommy is the reason I do what I do today and the reason I have the work ethics I have today. He gave me the opportunity to start doing electrical work and taught me what I know. When I would call and say I couldn't fix a problem he would tell me to get back over there and start over because he knew I could do it and I always did. Mr Tommy had a little different approach to every job is worth doing right the first time, you just knew that you either did it right the first time or he was going to make you do it over again anyway lol. RIP MR. Tommy
